

Classrooms Come to Life with Inspirational Graphics and Signs

WeDo graphics. When a school district received a grant to upfit four schools with technology, furniture and art to better reflect the career paths of each school's field of study, they came to us to renovate the classrooms through signage applications. Their goal was to transform the classrooms into what looked and felt like real-life workplaces.

Custom Graphics Display Installations

We first toured the schools and conducted interviews to learn more about each school's goals and what students would be learning at each career academy. The final solution incorporated a variety of signage applications throughout the schools including wall graphics, PVC, textured surface graphics, ceiling tiles, floor graphics, frosted windows and acrylic. The combination of these materials made the graphics jump off the wall and brought the spaces to life.

The project took seven days to install across four different campuses. The district's leaders were amazed when they saw "the big reveal" and spent hours touching all the different textures. School personnel also felt that the graphics package brought life to each classroom. The best compliment we received was, "It's better than we could have imagined!"

Transform your space using the depth of signage and design services offered from PIP—consultation, design concept, design fulfillment, printing, and professional installation. Contact us at pip.com.